

Our Tradition of Service

Blessed Fra Angelico, a fifteenth-century Dominican brother, was also a famous painter—so much so that St. John Paul II made him the patron of painters. His chapel for Pope Nicholas V, dedicated to Deacon St. Lawrence, patron of Rome, still survives in the Vatican.

The emperor reportedly told St. Lawrence to show him the treasures of the Church, and so he brought the poor before the emperor, saying that these are the Church's true treasures. Fra Angelico's wonderful 1449 fresco shows Lawrence, who served in Rome in the third century, giving coins to the poor and lame of the city.

Indeed, for the Church, those most in need are those who most interest us, because they are the ones who most interested Christ. From the very beginning, Jesus sent out his apostles, two by two, to prepare people to receive his preaching. They were to heal the sick, cast out demons, and preach the gospel of salvation. He did not concentrate his efforts only on the influential, although he didn't avoid them, but rather invested his efforts in forming his apostles in preaching and service.

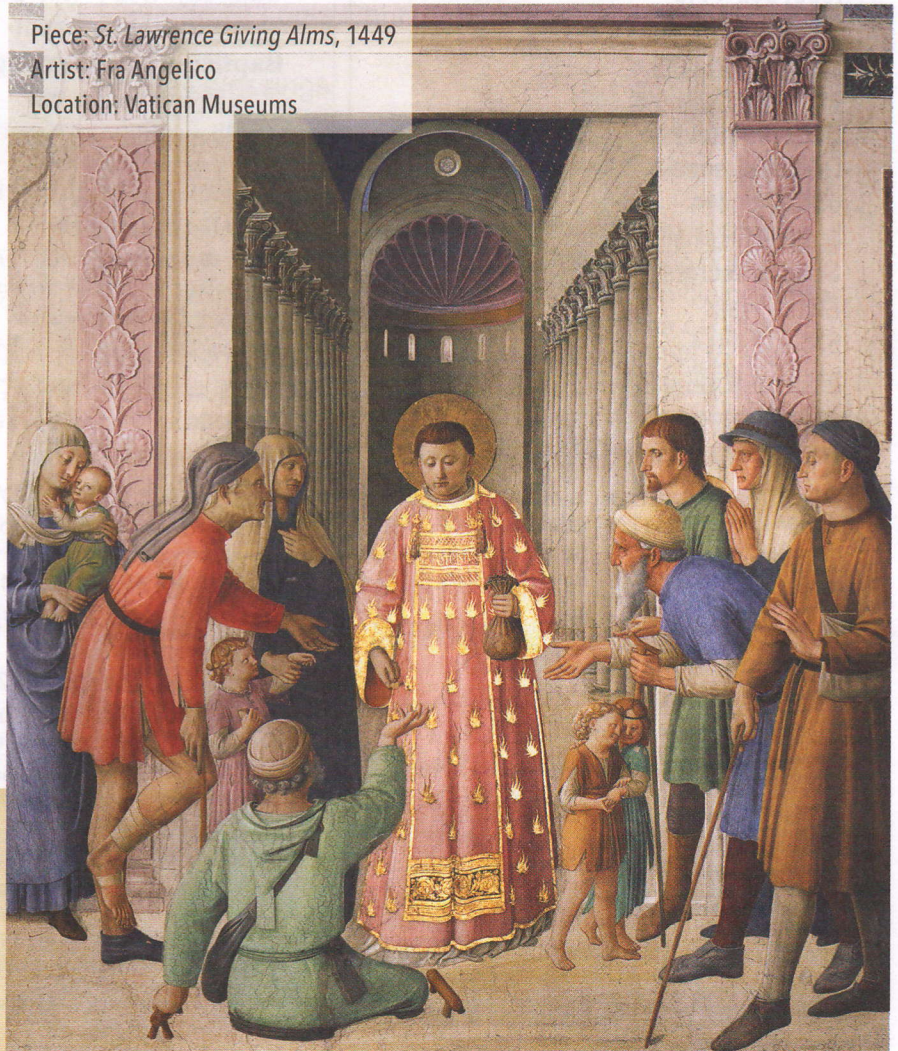

Christ has entrusted the Church with that same mission, and it continues to fulfill this charge worldwide. No continent or country is without the presence of the Catholic Church, with its missionaries and institutions who care for the materially, intellectually, and spiritually poor. We should be proud to be part of such a worldwide force for good that has served so many for so long.

For Reflection

How do I participate in the Church's mission of serving the poor?

What more can I do to educate my children or others in this important aspect?

[Jesus said,] "Whatever place does not welcome you... leave there and shake the dust off your feet in testimony against them."

Note from Fr. Steve:

We welcome back several of our young graduates from Saint Ignatius from recent years to produce a pro-life video at our Church this Saturday July 14th. Wonderful to know of this dedication of our young people doing this vital work of the Church! We extend another warm St. Ignatius welcome to those who visited us at 5 PM Mass this weekend from my former Parish, Saint Rose Philippine Duchesne in Florissant! They came to support our parish school by coming to worship with us and go to the tractor and truck pull Saturday evening. Many of them actually told me, even before I moved here, about our wonderful Thanksgiving dinner that they have come to in previous years. We will probably see them again this November. Our thanks to our brothers and sisters from Saint Rose, showing us the joy of what it is to be a large St Louis Church community!

Many blessings.
Father Steve

Note from the Consolators:

Dear Padre,

Recently a genetic testing kit became available.
Does the Church have any teaching on these tests?

In principle the Church is not opposed to genetic testing. The number of tests available seems to rise almost daily. The critical issue from a moral standpoint is what we do with the information that is gained.

Any use of the information to harm people would be judged immoral—for example, using genetic information to detect Down syndrome in a fetus with the subsequent abortion of a developing life. Another example would be using genetic information against people seeking employment or health insurance.

Another concern is the impact that genetic testing results might have on the person receiving it. For example, a person may wish to know if he carries the gene for Huntington's disease, an illness that will surface in his life if he has the gene. There is no cure for this debilitating disease. However, the information may assist him in preparing himself and others for the time when the disease will manifest itself.

In other instances, however, genetic information may lead to prevention and treatment of disease. Such testing would allow spouses to know if they carry a particular gene, for example, associated with cystic fibrosis. A couple finding themselves carriers of the gene should bear this in mind as they make decisions about responsible parenthood.

Summarizing, information obtained from genetic testing holds promise and potential peril. The dignity and life of persons should guide judgments about the morally acceptable use of genetic information.

A Word From Pope Francis

Jesus himself tells us in no uncertain terms that we will be judged by the mercy we show to the poor: those who hunger and thirst, the naked, the stranger, the sick, and those in prison. Particularly in our prosperous societies, Christians are called to guard against the temptation of indifference.

—Jubilee Audience, June 30, 2016
