The Mission of the Trinity

This detail of the Trinity is part of the very first fresco Raphael painted for Pope Julius II. Christian iconography commonly represented the Godhead as a triangle with the all-seeing eye in the center, often with rays of glory flooding forth. Yet Raphael chooses to make it much more personal, more real. He depicts the three persons of the Trinity.

God is not merely an idea, a first principle, or a mental criteria for moral choosing, but three real divine persons, each one active in your life. A triune God, an eternal explosion of love in which the Father begins by creating you; the Son continues by saving you; and the Holy Spirit consumes their love by inspiring and sanctifying you.

Although all things change, God never changes. He is still, the point of the pendulum from which all things hang and are supported. He wisely governs with his one hand lifted in authoritative and assuring purpose. In his other hand, the sphere of the world rests secure. His decisions are not arbitrary, swayed by public opinion, or motivated by insecurity needing affirmation. He is who is. It is we who need him and not the other way around.

Yet, his absolute authority doesn't convert him into an aloof despot. God lovingly takes interest in everything! Nothing is unimportant—from the greatest things on earth to the smallest minutiae of my day. If it is important to me, it is important to him, and his providential hand keeps it all in balance.

For Reflection

Each person of the Trinity has a mission: The Father creates, the Son saves, and the Holy Spirit sanctifies. Do I thank each one for each one's gift?

[Jesus said,] "Make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit."

Note from Father Buehler

With a great end to the school year a week ago and the teachers wrapping up and cleaning classrooms this past week, our parish shifts into summer mode. But these days are not destined to be lazy!

Thursday saw our incumbent pastor, Fr. Steve Robeson (ROBE-son), visit for the first time to meet with the staff and get a lay of the land. We had a good conversation about the great things going on at St. Ignatius, as well as the work that lies ahead of us, including the Regional Education Steering Committee. He counts himself tremendously blessed to have been assigned here.

With our new pastor moving into the rectory soon, there is a need to do some repairs. This is particularly true for the carpet both downstairs and upstairs. It is worn, wrinkled and smells bad. If anyone knows where to get good industrial carpet for cheap, or is willing to lend a hand with the installation, please contact Anne Lober at the rectory office.

I am away this weekend for a friend's ordination to the priesthood in Wichita, KS. It gets me thinking about how many men and women say they never considered giving their life to Christ in a more dedicated way simply because nobody asked them personally. Do you know of a young man you think might make a good priest? Do you know of a young woman who might make a good sister? Consider this a prompt of the Holy Spirit: Tell him! Tell her!

In meeting with our shared accountant and the finance council, it was determined that the time is right to make a couple changes in how purchasing takes place for the parish organizations and events. Historically, there were a number of organizational checkbooks. However, though convenient, this has proven to be problematic from an accounting standpoint for a number of reasons. Instead, we will go to a "single checking account / credit card" system. Organizations will keep their cash reserves in a designated account but no longer have a checkbook. Instead, all check requests will go through Anne, who can process them in less than 24 hours. Also, for on-the-spot purchases, parish credit cards will be established – one for the pastor, one for the principal, and one for the parish to be loaned out as needed. It will take a while to get used to the new system and work out the processes, but I'm confident this will actually help our parish operation in the long run. Thank you in advance for your patience. Please don't hesitate to reach out to me with any questions.

Next weekend is Corpus Christi. In Washington, my other parish (St. Francis Borgia) will be joining up with OLL for the 1st Annual Washington Corpus Christi procession. After the 11am Mass at SFB, the procession will depart around noon to arrive at Lourdes around 1pm. It would be great to have a St. Ignatius presence! Fun fact: Did you know St. Ignatius has a Corpus Christi Processional Canopy? It's on loan for the Washington Corpus Christi procession.

Lastly: Dream big! What ministries would you like to see at our parish that we don't currently have? The Regional Education Steering Committee wants to know. Let me, Stacy or Jennifer know your thoughts.

God Bless you,
Father Buehler

Holy Trinity Sunday- Make Disciples of all Nations

The Gospel for today is one of the most classic passages illuminating our call to be missionary disciples. It is often called the Great Commission and reminds us that we have been sent by God to proclaim the Good News of salvation to all people. The Christian life is a constant cycle of worship and being sent. We worship in the Mass and are sent out to share what and whom we have received in the Holy Eucharist. Then, we return again to this font of life in order to receive nourishment for the next time we are sent. We journey from communion to mission and back again. I invite you today to consider your daily life and what little ways you can make disciples of others. Perhaps it is extra prayer and silence in your life, joining or leading a Bible study, inviting a person to a parish event, or sharing what Jesus Christ has done in your life. There are many ways we can make more disciples for Christ. Be creative! Archstl.org/dynamic

MORNING OF PRAYER AND REFLECTION

All are welcome. Share rides and plan to be here (4680 St. Ann's Rd.) Florence's House of Prayer, by 8:30 to greet each other and have coffee. # Dear Padre,

Did Jesus know that he was God?

Everyone, Jesus included, has self-knowledge—at least in principle. For example, even though we know that we are individual human beings, we still find it almost impossible to formulate what that really means. Saint Thomas Aquinas explains that our knowledge of all things is conceptual—we make abstractions, express them in concepts, and think by combining these concepts. But self-knowledge is the one exception—it is intuitive knowledge, not conceptual, and extremely difficult to formulate in concepts.

Did Jesus know that he was God? Yes, intuitively. But if it's hard for us to express what we somehow sense as our basic humanity, imagine how difficult it would have been for Jesus to express what he profoundly grasped as his divine/human self-identity. His knowledge of his radical selfhood would have been a genuine self-awareness of who he truly was—both God and human—but he wouldn't have been able to express it in a conceptual way.

Jesus was able to build upon this profound, intuitive self-knowledge. Human beings perceive they are human early in life, but they know even more when they're forty than when they are twenty. A similar deepening perception took place in Jesus. Through life experiences, Jesus constantly discovered what being divine in human circumstances implied. That's why Hebrews 5:8 says he "learned obedience through what he suffered."

How wonderful it is to have Jesus, true God and true human, as our Savior.

A Word From Pope Francis

The Feast of the Most Holy Trinity invites us to commit ourselves in daily events to being leaven of communion, consolation, and mercy. In this mission, we are sustained by the strength that the Holy Spirit gives us: he takes care of the flesh of humanity, wounded by injustice, oppression, hate, and avarice.
